This collection of slacker psychedelic comics spawned a thousand Internet memes. Cartoonist Matt Furie's deadpan comics showcase slacker roommates Andy, Brett, Landwolf, and Pepe in a series of comical vignettes combining laconic psychedelia, childlike enchantment, drug-fueled hedonism, and impish mischief. The perpetually insouciant glaze of his characters belie the sharp verbal and visual wit of Furie, who delivers a stoner classic for the Tumblr generation. In fact, Furies wildly popular teenage weirdoes became an overnight internet sensation when Pepe the Frog was widely adopted by users of 4chan and remixed ad infinitum from there (including uses by pop stars like Nicki Minaj and Katy Perry), giving Boys Club built-in recognition with many. A spiritual cousin to Simon Hanselmanns Megahex and Jon Cornellias Mox Nox, Boys Clubs sense of humor will especially resonate with fans of stoner comedies and black humor. Monochrome illustrations throughout

It's a land of make-believe wherein pranks, fart jokes, acid trips, filthy group houses are the only reality that matters. - Hi-LowOne would hesitate to label Boys Club is a milestone in the history of the medium, but if you like comics about getting high and eating pizza, these simply cannot be beat. Feels good, man. - The A.V. ClubAbout the AuthorMatt Furie, born in 1979 in Columbus, Ohio, is best known for the Rare Pepe meme of 4chan and Tumblr.
