For the young (who have another's) heart (in a closet somewhere behind the bowling ball and dried elk's testicle)By Richard ED JonesDeadpool, a Marvel Comics character initially created by Fabian Nicieza and Rob Liefeld in the 90s, is a character who can land in any type of story and then immediately take it over. While I was a huge fan of Joe Casey's original run on Deadpool's first solo series, I've not been all that enamored of Daniel Way's treatment of the Merc with a Mouth. My youngest son, however, can't get enough of the stuff. At 14, the son is -- perhaps -- the perfect audience for this iteration of Deadpool. Deadpool does have an amusing internal monologue, which often argues with itself, contradicts itself and makes for most of the funny. I would have given the book 3 stars at most, but the son insisted on seven. We compromised on 5.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Favorite of the volumesBy VikkiThe Complete Collection 2 of Deadpool was the funniest of the Complete Volumes. It shows Deadpool as crazy but having a method behind the madness. A lot of other comic book heroes show up in these issues too. My favorite volumes were the ones when Deadpool was a pirate and the ones where he works with the X-Men and the Spider-Man issues. I gave this a 4 out of 5 stars on Goodreads.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Gift!By MakaylaMy partner and I ordered this for his dad's birthday present this year, and he quite enjoyed it! He assured us that the comics were in excellent condition!

Deadpool wants to be an X-Man. And he's not going to let anyone stand in his way - not even the X-Men! When Cyclops announces to the world that the X-Men are constructing an island haven for mutants, Wade Wilson decides it's time for him to join the revolution. But he soon finds out that big guns and a healing factor don't make an X-Man. Then, Deadpool must team-up with Spider-Man to go after the most dangerous threat he's ever faced. Plus, it's a Vegas vacation done Deadpool-style when Wade draws the ire of Las Vegas' biggest casino bosses and their newest protector-for-hire, The House - a super-suited security guard armed to the teeth!
