Wells Collecting: Deadpool Team-Up (1998) #1----- Deadpool Team-Up (2010) #899-883 Bonus: 8-page sketch gallery This collection follows Deadpool Classic Volume 12: Deadpool Corps in the ongoing reprint series that is quickly becoming a comprehensive retrospective of every Deadpool solo adventure, ever. The comics collected here included the two "Team-Up" series.

The longer running Team-Up began in November 2009 with issue #899 and counted down each month. The opening adventure teams Deadpool with Hercules as they work their way through a Murderworld Labyrinth. Other notable one-time teammates include Ghost Rider, Captain Britain, Satana (daughter of Satan), Gorilla Man, Thing, Thor, Iron Fist, The Watcher, and Galactus! Deadpool's teammates are usually reluctant at best. Each issue in the series is authored by a different writer; the credits include some comic luminaries like Cullen Bunn (#888) and Skottie Young (#883) who are personal favorites of mine. For readers looking to collect "critical" stories that include continuity-changing events, then this is not the collection to get. Each story is self contained, so there is not a lot of continuity between issues. There is also minimal impact with the Marvel universe in this collection. That said, it is Deadpool interacting with heroes from very different backgrounds and abilities. There is plenty of madcap and macabre humor here, and I found the collection enjoyable if not memorable. The Deadpool Classic reprints are a perfect collection for Deadpool Fans. The Deadpool Classic series continues with Deadpool Classic Vol. 14: Suicide Kings. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Evidently, the voices in his head aren't enough company for Deadpool! These riotous, ridiculous and outright reprehensible team-ups pair the irrepressible mercenary with Marvel's finest characters and creators! Don't expect 'Pool to hog all the glory, though; he'll share the spotlight with his new buddies, and drive them all bonkers in the process. Featuring a roster of Marvel comics all-stars!
