Based around a half-human, half-devil name Anzai whose job it is to take in murdering/raping devils for their own 'devil' branded police force. Oh, and did I mention the extremely interesting relationship between Tsukasa, the female protagonist and Anzai. Where Anzai ends up falling in love with her, though unfortunately she is a human and if she bleeds, well Anzai just might not be able to stop himself from killing her. Definitely the best seinen romance series I've read in a long time! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Surprisingly good By Katherine E. Bartoni originally picked this due to the cover art. i like the gritty story line and a fresh perspective that relationships on opposite spectrums are messy. Finding the balance between the main characters "love" story and the main plot of vampires co existing with humans. undertones of discrimination that are parallel with todays society definitely noticed. loved it0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I love this mangaBy CustomerThe reason why I chose the five-star rating was because I love this idea of vampires looking like monsters rather than the Pretty boy Dracula ! I thought it was very different from the other ideas of a vampire ! I love how the romance of this book was very interesting plus I also thought that the female and the male main characters would hook up or become physically romantic . Lol !! I just can't wait for the next book!

Tsukasa, a college student, is rescued from an attack by a devil, one of many vampires that can blend in among the human population. Anzai, her savior, is a half-devil who exploits his supernatural gifts as a member of a shadowy police task force that specializes in devil-related crime in Tokyo. As Anzai continues to keep guard over Tsukasa, the two quickly forge a tentative bondone that Anzai fears will test his iron-clad rule of never drinking human blood...

About the AuthorRyo Hanada (June 15, 1987) is one of the rising stars of Japanese comics today. Winner of SquareEnix's 2012 Young GanGan Manga Award's Special Prize for her submission BLIND, she quickly caught the attention of bigger publishers. After a couple of years in self-publishing, in 2013 she made her professional debut with Kodansha's premiere manga magazine MORNING (publishers of mega-hits such as Chi's Sweet Home, Drops of God, Vagabond). Her first work for them was Devils' Line, which is already captivating audiences with its stunning artwork and interesting mix of the supernatural and modern-day espionage.
