Loved it so much got it for a friend.It's hard to explain why I love this title so much but I think the easiest way to explain is TEXTURE. The story draws you in from the first frame and OFF YOU GO! Anvard is city under the dome, and like any city it has issues, from traffic jams, local celebrities, college students in love with their professors, and cubical queens hell bent on goofing off every chance they get. This place just feels real. But with rather wonderful differences. That would be a foot traffic jam, did I mention that professor is a giant plumed lizard, does that guy have a Pomeranian's head and four fingers and a bondage harness, and an internet connection that doesn't jack into a monitor but your brain... and I'm not even getting close to explaining the sheer wonder and shocking excitement of running through all this just to turn around and bump into something so familiar it's like finding your cat on Mars. check out the web page [...]0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. FLV2 blew me awayBy George WhitwellCarla Speed McNeil is a genius. Her aboriginal sf FINDER from 20 years ago is some of the most provocative work that I have seen anywhere. And she does it all - beautiful drawings, intriguing characters, mind-bending story-lines. If you like Sandman, you need to see FINDER. Volume 2 is even better than Volume 1 and they needn't be read in order.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Excellent. Bears repeated readingBy David HobbyExcellent. Bears repeated reading, there are lots of details.
