Let's hit the road with Roy and OliverBy Jesse JacksonIt's hard to believe that this was Brad Meltzer's first comic story but as the writer himself has said many times, he's been writing Justice League stories in his head his whole life. I not only love the way that Brad writes Roy, Clark, The Shade, Oliver and the other characters. It's a wonderful post resurrection story. it's also the gateway tale that helped me find

Brad's writing. I had never read any of his books but once I read that he was going to write Green Arrow, I found his novels and have been a fan ever since.

New York Times #1 Best-selling author of Identity Crisis Brad Meltzer, launches an epic adventure in the life of Oliver Queen aka Green Arrow in this new Deluxe Edition! Green Arrow died. Then he came back to life. But in the meantime, the Shade dropped the ball on a job Green Arrow had asked him to take care of in the event of his death: gathering various artifacts to protect Green Arrow's identity. The reborn superhero and his old sidekick, Speedy, now known as Arsenal, embark on "The Archer's Quest," gathering those artifacts and taking several trips down memory lane. Collects Green Arrow #16-21

"It's bold and exciting."--PUBLISHER'S WEEKLY About the Author Brad Meltzer is the #1 New York Times best-selling author of The Book of Fate, as well as the bestsellers The Tenth Justice, Dead Even, The First Counsel, The Millionaires and The Zero Game. He is also co-creator of the TV show Jack Bobby -- and the author of the critically acclaimed comic book IDENTITY CRISIS and GREEN ARROW: THE ARCHER'S QUEST. He got 24 rejection letters for his true first novel, which still sits on his shelf -- published by Kinko's. The first comic book Brad ever read was JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA #150 (1978). He was seven years old. Needless to say, it changed his life. Brad currently lives in Florida with his wife and his comic book collection.
