Cheers to Mike Johnson and Tony Shasteen!By MarjamHate the cover art [retro '50s style? really?]; loved the inside art, except part 6, which suffered from a completely different style and one that didn't seem very true to the characters. The style was lively, but sometimes I had to make sure I was tracking characters correctly -- some looked completely different from their "real-life" counterparts. I was very glad to see a strong minority character in Captain Terrell [in addition to wonderful Lt Uhura]. The storyline, I have some issues with. It was very well told [particularly Spock's mix of new information with his memories], but I could have done without the recycling of the bad guys from the Prime Universe. I am even more tired of them than I am the Klingons That said, I absolutely loved Jaylah's story. Great job on that. Many people have said she is a super character, and I hope they make ST4 and include Jaylah! [If they don't, can you guys write some stories with her in them?]

Cheers to Mike Johnson and Tony Shasteen! You guys rock.

An interesting start

By Jared R

An interesting start, I'm looking forward to reading the other issues. And a nice touch with the Concord's captain being Terrell. My only quibble is the minor fact that they're by the border of the Delta Quadrant, but travelling massive distances with no comment is just a standard part of the Kelvinverse.

Great start

By Saije

Great look at what the crew was doing during the construction of the Enterprise A. I wondered how long they must have been waiting for it be built, since the original took more than 3 years. Can't wait for the rest of the series.

After the destruction of their ship in Star Trek Beyond, the crew of the U.S.S. Enterprise have been re-assigned to new ships with unseasoned crews, and unfamiliar roles. The Galaxy enjoys a fragile peace, but the discoveries of new worlds, new species, new ships, all leads to a new danger unlike anything the Federation has encountered before. And resistance may be futile...

Collects issues #16.

"Hot on the heels of another tremendous debut issue, Star Trek: Boldly Go #1 proves that IDW's new Trek titles are forces to be reckoned with." -Newsarama

"I'm sure you'll agree that this is really rather brilliant." Flickering Myth

About the Author

Mike Johnson wrote the Star Trek ongoing series for IDW and currently writes the sequel series Star Trek: Boldly Go, both set in the Kelvin timeline of the films by J.J. Abrams and Justin Lin. With fellow Orci/Kurtzman employee Tim Jones, he also wrote Star Trek: Nero and Star Trek: The Official Motion Picture Adaptation. His other credits include Superman/Batman and Supergirl for DC Comics and the miniseries Eight for Dark Horse, with artist and co-writer Raphael Albuquerque.

Tony Shasteen has been an illustrator and graphic designer since graduating from the Art Institute of Atlanta with a degree in Visual Communications. His work has been featured in publications such as Communication Arts, Playboy, and Spectrum. He lives in the tranquil suburbs of Atlanta with his wife, two sons, and as many cats as possible.
