The enterprise being a part of this story is amazing with her incredible crew and captain. Can't wait to see the next one.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Engrossing but tragic. Machine"(Where the U.S.S. 'Constellation', NCC-1017, and Commodore Decker(not 'Dekker'), the 'Constellation' and her crew ran afoul of a giant, planet smashing robot and was similarly wrecked, albeit with the Decker character as the crew's sole survivor. That's why I bought 'The Spectrum War'. I wish the 'Constellation' would have received more page time.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. lovedBy Gerlinde PageGave as gift. Two iconic franchises collide for this blockbuster crossover event! The crew of the U.S.S. Enterprise meets the Green Lantern Corps for the first time in an all-new adventure that spans the cosmos! Kirk and Spock make a most unusual discovery on a lost world: a ragtag group of Lanterns, lead by Hal Jordan, who were forced to flee a wave of destruction that wiped out their entire universe! But how did they get here? What does their arrival mean for the Federation? What exactly were they running from...and did it follow them?

About the AuthorA highly imaginative and engaging writer who's written stories for some of the biggest characters in comic book history, including Batman and Superman, Mike Johnson also has the distinction of having scripted more Star Trek comic book stories than any writer ever. Seriously. Johnson's first work with IDW was in 2009, when he wrote the miniseries Star Trek: Countdown, a well-received prequel to the 2009 J.J. Abrams film. Following Countdown, Johnson would go on to write many more Star Trek stories, including (but not limited to) Star Trek: Khan, Star Trek: Starfleet Academy, Star Trek: Nero, the crossover Star Trek/Green Lantern, and both of IDW's ongoing Star Trek series, the most recent being Boldly Go with artist Tony Shasteen. An almost life-long Trek fan who was watching the original series in reruns as a child and Star Trek: The Next Generation from day one, his favorite characters are Data and Spock.
