Kevin Eastman, Peter Laird, Dan Bergen, Michael Dooney, Ryan Brown : Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles Classics Volume 7 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles Classics Volume 7:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. the stories are great and in color for this setBy Eric ClinganAfter getting the ultimate collection, I wanted to find the rest of the Mirage TMNT comics. The TMNT classics collection was where I found almost all of the rest of the series. the stories are great and in color for this set.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. The Mirage Studios reprints just keep comingBy ChongoThe most recent entry from this awesome line of reprint collections from IDW. TMNT was arguably one of the best independent comics out there during the 80's early 90's. They've always been some of my personal favorite reads always found them to be the perfect alternative to the more mainstream stuff that was coming out from DC Marvel at the time. The turtles Mirage stuff always had so much raw energy with a very nonconformist attitude in terms of story illustration. And to be quite honest, the new stuff continues in the very same tradition. This volume features six stories from the very long out of print tpb "Shell Shock" plus two of the very best TMNT stories from the original series; "Leatherhead Too" from Dan Berger "Masks" from Michael Dooney. Again like the rest in this series, everything here has been reprinted in beautiful new color which is an added bonus for fan's who've been curious to see how the art compares to it's original black white. This is a must for diehard fan's definitely if you've been reading the current IDW series want to experience what came before. A+

TMNT Classics Continues! Volume 7 collects issues #4547, which includes "Leatherhead, Too," "Masks" parts 12, and six short stories from Shell Shock: "Ghouls Night Out," "Crazy Man," "The Survival Game," "The Howl," "Technofear," and "It's A Gas." All in brand-new color.
